

CWE Health Care Training Initiatives

CWE has restructured its health care training programs to meet the ever changing landscape of the health care industry. We primarily provide services to 1199 Service Employees International Union Funds partners, including the Job Security Fund, Training and Upgrade Fund, Labor-Management Project, Continuing Education Institute, and the DC37 Education Fund, New York City's largest public employees union (AFSCME, AFL-CIO). Our customized training for the Workforce Training Academy, a partnership of 1199SEIU and New York-Presbyterian Hospital, is a cooperative project that allows CWE to facilitate a complete range of workforce service classes and customized training that leads health care professionals to new jobs or to transition between jobs at hospitals and medical facilities. The training offered by CWE has been particularly important in the wake of major hospital closings involving thousands of layoffs.
